

News of the day

Different Types of Rocks

Rocks are classified to make it easier on people to identify them in the future. Students of Grade II A were shown different types of rocks like marble, limestone and coal. They were also told about the uses of these rocks, their texture, appearance etc. Students were relating it to their daily life as they were telling about the objects and buildings that are made up of different types of rocks.